

Richard W. Hertle, MD, FAAO, FACS, FAAP
Sanatoga, PA, USA
EICPOS@wspos.org
ORCID 0000-0002-5396-9910
Scopus Author ID 7006153174
Research Topics* Nystagmus, Strabismus, Amblyopia, Cataract, Glaucoma, ROP

Dr. Hertle is a retired clinical pediatric ophthalmologist, administrator and investigator. He has served as Chief of Pediatric ophthalmology at multiple Children's Hospitals and as an international visiting Professor. He was principal investigator on a number of NIH-funded research projects including studies on the treatment of strabismus, nystagmus and amblyopia, receiving over 2 million dollars of funding. Dr. Hertle has written 2 textbooks, multiple chapters, over 260 refereed publications and as many abstracts, editorials and reviews. He currently serves as reviewer for multiple journals and is an Executive Committee Member for WSPOS and Editor-In-Chief of POS. Dr. Hertle and his wife live in the Philadelphia area near two married children and six grandchildren. He remains active with over 50 years in ice hockey as a player, coach and team physician for many youth, collegiate and high school hockey teams in Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Maryland.