

Jagrut Lallu, BOptometry (Hons), MSc (Hons)
University of Auckland Rose Optometry
New Zealand Eye Research Centre, Hamilton, New Zealand;
Honorary Teaching Fellow University of Auckland
Department of Optometry and Vision Sciences
Clinical Senior Lecturer, Deakin School of Optometry, Australia research@nzerc.com
Research Topics: Contact Lenses, Dry Eye, Machine Learning

Jagrut Lallu founded New Zealand's first myopia management clinic. His clinical and research interests include myopia management, orthokeratology, keratoconus, and dry eye. He is a World Council of Optometry Ambassador for the Asia-Pacific region and an IMI Myopia Ambassador for New Zealand. He is Past President of the Cornea and Contact Lens Society of New Zealand and a founding member of the Australia and New Zealand Child Myopia Working Group. Jagrut Lallu has multiple peer-reviewed publications plus textbook chapter contributions. He is currently publishing on a variety of topics related to Orthokeratology, dry eye, red light therapy and machine learning. His New Zealand Eye Research Centre is focused on clinical trials