Dr. Navarro is a Consultant Ophthalmic Surgeon with subspecialty expertise in paediatric ophthalmology, strabismus, and glaucoma. She trained at Universidad Complutense de Madrid and completed fellowships at Oxford University Hospitals, Birmingham Children's Hospital, and Cheltenham and Gloucestershire NHS Trust, following a PhD candidacy and ophthalmology training at Universidad de Navarra. Since 2020, she has served as a Bureau Member of the World Society of Paediatric Ophthalmology and Strabismus. Her career spans clinical practice, teaching, and research, including numerous international clinical trials on retinal disease, glaucoma, and dry eye, alongside peer-reviewed publications. She has presented extensively at international, national, and regional conferences, and has taught and examined medical students and ophthalmology trainees throughout her career.
