

Massimiliano Serafino, MD
IRCCS Istituto G. Gaslini, Genova, Italy
massimilianoserafino@gaslini.org
ORCID: # 0000-0002-3906-1885
Research Topics: strabismus, cataract

Dr Massimiliano Serafino, “Max,” is the Head of Ophthalmology Division at Giannina Gaslini Institute, Children’s Hospital in Genoa, Italy. He teaches Strabismus and Pediatric Cataract at Ophthalmology Residency at University of Milan. Dr Serafino completed his Ophthalmology residency at San Paolo Hospital in Milan, Italy, then fellowship in Pediatric Ophthalmology and Adult Strabismus in 2002 at Storm Eye Institute in Charleston, South Carolina, USA and his followed by an observership in Genetics and Pediatric Glaucoma in 2012 at Wills Eye Hospital in Philadelphia, USA. He was European Board Ophthalmology examinator in May 2019.
Dr Serafino has authored publications in various peer-reviewed journals and published many book chapters in the field of pediatric ophthalmology and strabismus. He also has many abstracts, reviews and invited lectures at various international and national meetings. He currently serves as a reviewer for multiple journals. His main fields of interests is: pediatric cataract and strabismus.